

Your Outsourced IR and Events Partner. All in One.

Reconnecting capital. Building relationships. Creating experiences that last.

There is a moment after the close when investor relationships quietly cool. Reports go out. Annual meetings happen. And then silence. By the time your next raise begins, the people who already backed you are not as close as they were, and the warm introductions you were counting on never materialized. This is the gap Simone Soleil Advisors was built to close.

THREE ENGAGEMENTS

01

LP Re-Engagement

Your existing LPs are your warmest asset. I re-engage them personally, rebuild the relationship, and create conditions for them to reinvest and bring their peers.

02

Open the Room to New Relationships

I draw on my own network of family offices, next gen leaders, and UHNW individuals to bring the right new people into your orbit through curated experiences.

03

Multi-City IR Program

A sustained year-round program across multiple cities, built around your calendar, LP base, and fundraising timeline. Run under my direction from strategy to execution.

WHY IT WORKS

Relationship Capital

Twenty years of genuine relationships across family offices, next gen wealth holders, institutional allocators, and the production partners who make an event feel effortless.

Production Expertise

Intimate dinners, roundtables, multi-day conferences. Every element — venue, ambience, programming, AV, catering, and follow-up — managed so the experience does the work.

Operational Discipline

COO-level execution discipline means every commitment is delivered on, at the quality level that reflects the firm I am representing.

Genuine Connection

Knowing who belongs in the room, how to sequence the evening so the right conversations happen, and how to follow through so every introduction actually leads somewhere.

ABOUT HANADI ZAKOUR

Hanadi Zakour founded Simone Soleil Advisors after two decades at the intersection of capital, relationships, and execution. Named for her two daughters, the firm reflects a conviction formed through years alongside family offices: that the hardest thing to preserve is not the capital but the legacy, values, and relationships that carry it forward. She brings relationship capital, operational expertise, and strategic execution to help private markets firms grow through both connection and structure. Based in Westchester, New York. Working with clients across the United States.
